

Journal of
CHILD AND YOUTH CARE WORK

Copyright 1994 by
The National Organization of Child Care Work Associations, Inc.

Challenging The Crisis In Care

FROM THE EDITOR

Mark's Journal	3
Karen VanderVen

COLUMN

Nexus	5
Mark Krueger

ARTICLES

Who Said Children Matter, Anyway ? Family Preservation and Child Protection – Conflicting Agendas for Practitioners	6
David Millen

A Contextual Approach for Evaluating Progress in Childrens' Environment of Care	14
Barbara Thomlison

Seeking to Improve Quality at a Residential Treatment Center for Troubled Youth	25
Trevor Josephson and Brad Simm

Never Alone: Reflections on the Presence of Self and History in Child and Youth Care Work	35
Thom Garfat

It's a Way of Life: Direct Care as Community	44
Susan Eschbach

The Future of Child and Youth Care as a Profession: Assessing Administrator Attitudes	56
Earl N. Stuck, Jr.

Words from the Trenches	66
Allan D. Nass

INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES

FICE is Coming to America !	70
James Anglin

Transatlantic Learnings 72
Victoria J. Dimidjian and Angelina Bartoli

NEW PERSPECTIVES

Child Care by the Year 2000: Cybercare, Community and Electronic Synergism 81
Dana Lewis